THE LIVER, THE BOWELS, and the KIDNEYS.
These great organs are the natural cleansers of the system. If they work well, health will be perfect; if they become clogged, dreadful diseases are sure to follow with TERRIBLE SUFFERING.
Biliousness, Headache, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Constipation and Piles, or Kidney Complaints, Gravel, Diabetes, Sediment in the Urine, Milky or Ropy Urine; or Rheumatic Pains and Aches,

Thousands have been cured. Try it and you will add one more to the number. Take it and health will once more gladden your heart.
Why suffer longer from the torment of an aching back?
Why bear such distress from Constipation and Piles?
Why be so fearful because of disordered urine?
KIDNEY WORT will cure you. Try a package at once and be satisfied.
It is a dry vegetable compound and
One Package makes six quarts of Medicine.

Col George L Perkins of Norwich, Conn., is a cheerful old gentleman of ninety four years, who wrote to a clever young doctor the other day: "I have already buried seven family physicians, so he must be a brave man who now accepts the post."

An English tourist on reaching a village where Tennyson had hired a house for the summer remarked to the inn keeper that a great man was in the neighborhood. The host with a look of surprise answered quickly, "Great? Great? Why there's only one man servant and he doesn't sleep in the house."

A little fellow, turning over the leaves of a scrapbook, came across the well known picture of some chickens just out of their shell. He examined the picture carefully and then with a grave sagacious look slowly remarked: "They came out 'cos they was afraid of being boiled."

The people of a New Hampshire town are so fearfully lazy that when the wife of a minister who had just settled in that town asked a prominent citizen if the inhabitants generally respected the Sabbath and refrained from business, the citizen replied: "Damn it, ma'am, they don't do enough work in a whole week to break the Sabbath, if it was all done on that day."

A devout Baptist Sunday school teacher in a western city writes: "I had one hundred and twenty six children in my class last Sunday morning. The number was not owing to my popularity as a teacher, nor because they were hungering and thirsting after righteousness, but because they smelled ice cream, cake and lemonade in the distance. Fourth of July is upon us and they all say 'present' on that occasion."

George Ripley, LL.D., President of the N. Y. Tribune Association and literary editor of that paper, died Sunday afternoon in his 78th year at his residence in New York. He was born at Greenfield, Mass., October 3d, 1823. He moved to New York in 1849 and became literary editor of the Tribune. He has also been for many years chief literary adviser of the firm of Harper & Bros. He projected and was principal editor of the American Cyclopaedia, and in addition has done a vast amount of other literary work.

The latest recorded collision at sea was between a Philadelphia steam collier in the Boston trade and a whale. When off Cape Cod several whales were seen sporting at the surface, directly in the course of the steamer. All disappeared except one, which waited until the collier was almost upon it before diving, and then did not dive deep enough, for a shock was felt which shook the steamer from stem to stern. A few days afterward the captain of a schooner that ran into Massachusetts Bay reported seeing a large whale of a peculiar species, for it had a decidedly humped back. Several of the iron plates of the hull of the iron steamer were pressed inward by the collision.

London Purple is arsenite of lime and is soluble in water. It is possible for plant roots to absorb the London Purple in watery solution, while Paris Green will remain unchanged in the earth for all time.

Excursions

At eight o'clock the hour when the steamer New Brunswick was to start on her excursion down the bay had arrived; the steamer was densely crowded with a happy and merry load. The Bangor Band was aboard in full number and never appeared to a better advantage. The lines being cast off, away she went making landings at Hampden, Winterport and Bucksport, where many others were added to the already crowded steamer. The sail down the river was delightful, the scenery, for which the Penobscot is renowned, seemed more charming than ever, and was the subject of remark by many on board. A short distance below Bucksport we passed the Bucksport Fire Company on the barge Juno, and the steamer Hercules with their friends on their way to this city, both bands playing while passing. Before we reached Fort Point we passed the steamer Sea Flower, closely packed with a party from this city for Northport. At Fort Point some of our number disembarked, when we were off for Camden, which we reached at ... twelve. Here a large number of our party went ashore while others went to Hurricane Isle and Carver's Harbor. We then headed across the bay, the water being quite smooth and a gentle breeze from the south adding to the comfort of the party. On the way over we passed the steamer Lone from Carver's Harbor for Rockland. Under the charge of the ... pilot we ran into the harbor, ... the ledges and narrow passes, making a hurricane like where a good number went ashore; the rest of the company going to Carver's Harbor, where they arrived a quarter past ... To Our Readers.

As the nomination of Mr Boutelle as the Republican candidate for Representative to Congress, will render it necessary for him to give his personal attention to the active work of the campaign, he has temporarily consigned the editorial management of the paper to other hands. During the present canvass the editorial columns will be under the competent direction of Mr Howard Owen, who will be assisted by other able writers on the issues of the campaign

THE PROPRIETORS

A COLLAPSE AT THE START—THAT GHASTLY "RATIFICATION"

The history of politics in this section fails to record another such ghastly and mortifying fizzle, as the conspicuously advertised and loudly proclaimed "Ratification Meeting" with which the Democracy opened their campaign at Norombega Hall last evening. The collapse was so complete and melancholy that even political opponents almost felt a shade of pity for the leaders who had boasted of the grand demonstration they were to have, and who had to sit on the stage and witness the worst failure ever known in any campaign in this city.

The first attempt to rally the coalition forces at the Plaisted Club meeting last Saturday night was utterly disastrous, only about twenty five persons being mustered in the hall, and last evening the failure was magnified in Norombega.

After all the trumpeting, and all the appeals to show what the Bangor Democracy could do, there was only a beggarly array of empty benches, a lonesome scattering of a few hundred, a failure of either of the advertised speakers to appear, and the great, Hancock Plaisted ratification petered out with Dr. Jordan, A. Sanborn and Stephen Jennings for its orators!

The rank and file were loud in their expressions of disgust at the plight to which incompetent and unscrupulous leadership has brought their party, and many of them freely acknowledge that the attempt to run a Democratic campaign with a Union soldier as a mask at one end, and the forgers, perjurers and tabulators of the State steal at the other, can result in nothing but such a collapse as attended its inauguration last evening.

GENERAL WOODFORD

One of the first to congratulate Mr. Boutelle upon his unanimous nomination was that gallant soldier and eloquent orator Gen Stewart L. Woodford, of New York, who presided so courteously and impartially at the Soldiers' Convention in Chicago, in June. Although Gen. Woodford and Mr Boutelle held opposite views upon the question of candidacy there discussed, they entertained a mutual respect and esteem which found prompt and hearty expression in the General's congratulatory message. We are pleased to state that in response to Mr. Boutelle's invitation Gen Woodford has cordially consented to address a series of meetings in this Congressional District during the present campaign. This will be gratifying news to our Republican friends to whom Gen l Woodford's name has become familiar in national politics, while many will remember his powerful address at the Republican Convention in Portland in 1875. He rendered gallant service as a soldier, was formerly Lieutenant-Governor of New York, has represented the Third District of that State in Congress with distinction, is now U. S. District Attorney for New York, and is one of the ablest and most eloquent public speakers in the country. His appointments will be announced hereafter.

State elections will occur this year as follows: Alabama, first Monday of August, Arkansas, first Monday of September, Vermont, first Tuesday of September, Maine, second Monday of September, Colorado, first Tuesday of October, Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia, second Tuesday of October, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia, Nov. 2, Georgia, Nov 3.

The most remarkable execution that ever took place in this country was probably that of three boy murderers at Canton, Ohio, last Friday. Gustave Ohr, aged 17 years, George Mann, aged 18, and John Sammet, aged 19, although so young, had committed the greatest crime for which the law provides a penalty. Ohr and Mann killed an inoffensive old man for the scanty plunder of $5 in money and an old silver watch, and Sammet slew in cold blood a boy of about his own age, who had testified against him in a court before which he had been arraigned for robbery.

The names of Mr. Brewster, of Boston, and Gen. Sam. J. Anderson, of Portland, were not very blazing attractions to conjure a crowd with; but to fall from them down to A. Sanborn and Stephen Jennings, ehen! that was a tough dose even for Bangor Democracy.

The feature of the "ratification" that pulled hardest on the tear-glands was when A. Sanborn pathetically eulogized Hancock for his prowess in killing rebels, while G. L. Boynton listened with that sort of cast-iron smile which seemed to indicate a yearning to choke the impassioned orator.

MAKING READY FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

The headquarters of the Republican National Committee, at No. 241 Fifth-ave., New York city, are now made ready for the campaign. The parlors are covered with matting, desks put in their places, and the walls ornamented with political portraits. On the third floor sleeping apartments are prepared for the clerks. Two of the clerks, Edmund M. Smith, of Chicago, and J. W. Anderson, of Washington, D. C., have already begun work. There were few visitors at the rooms Monday, most of the politicians probably being out of town. Ex-Senator Dorsey, the new secretary of the committee, was present at the rooms all day, receiving such visitors as called. A transparency will be placed across the front of the building, inscribed with the names of the candidates, and telling the occupation of the building by the National Committee.

BELFAST REPUBLICANS.

Monday evening there was the first boom in Belfast for Garfield, Arthur, and Milliken. A beautiful campaign flag was raised on the grounds of Geo. L Knight, Esq., and there were speeches by Hon. Seth L. Milliken, Rev. Mr. Gearish, Judge Hersey, Hon Wm. C Marshall and W. G. Frye, Esq. The speeches were followed by fireworks, and a social, pleasant time. The flag bears the names of Garfield and Arthur, the Presidential candidates, and of Seth L. Milliken for Congress.

THE IDEAL LEADER

[From the Providence Journal.]

The ideal leader of the times in the country would be a man, who in the vigor of early manhood took an honorable and effective part in the war for the safety of the nation, and has since been employed in legislative statesmanship. Constantly growing in intelligence and aptitude, and proving his capacity by long trial in the arena among his equals, the Republican candidate for the Presidency holds this position. Gen. Hancock does not. It is no disparagement to his just claims upon the gratitude of the American people to say that he is a soldier and nothing more, that his education has given him no training for public life, and that to credit him with the qualities of statesmanship would not only be a leap in the dark, but against experience and probability. He was nominated by the party of the opposition and the minority, which passed over its trained statesmen, simply with the hope that his military prestige and blank record of statesmanship would secure him votes, which it could not claim on its own merits or for an actually representative candidate. His candidacy is that of simple militaryism in politics, and without even that greatness and extent of service which is in itself something of a political education, and shows qualities of mind beyond those of the professional soldier.

OUR REPRESENTATIVE NOMINEE.

[From the Danvers (Mass.) Mirror.]

The Republicans of the Fourth Congressional District in Maine, at their Convention last week nominated Capt. C. A. Boutelle, editor of THE BANGOR DAILY WHIG, as their candidate for Representative in Congress, he receiving every vote of the Convention (172) on the first ballot. Speeches full of cheer and enthusiasm were made by our old friend Hon. Lewis Barker, Senator Hamlin, Capt. Boutelle, and many others. Capt. Boutelle is one of the most fearless Republicans of the Nation, and was the first and the boldest in discovering and denouncing the recent Fusion outrage upon the honor and institutions of that State and one of the men most prominent and efficient in despoiling the thieves of their plunder. His nomination means a vigorous and enthusiastic campaign for the recovery of the District from Fusion misrepresentation, and with every prospect of success.

[From the Cornish Maxims.]

The friends of Garfield and Arthur should by all means subscribe and pay for the Bangor WHIG AND COURIER edited by Hon. Chas. A. Boutelle, of Bangor, Republican nominee for Representative to Congress from the 4th District. The COURIER can safely be relied upon as a Republican paper, and the editor is fierce and outspoken in his opinions, and is a sharp and pithy writer. Take it, it will do you good.

The Hon. G. W. Ladd was not disposed to make one of that lonesome few on the stage last evening. He observed the fizzle from the gallery.

There is a great wealth of political capacity in the United States. The State Legislatures are a valuable training school. Men are often ripe politicians before they enter Congress, and the highest combination of character and capacity is perhaps likelier to be found on the slopes than at the summit of the party. Hence there is every reason to expect that if Mr. Garfield is chosen President he will be equal to the duties of his high calling, and able to maintain the lustre of his best traditions.—Manchester (Eng.) Times.

Plaisted having run Joe L. Smith off the track for Governor, the Commercial now recommends Smith for the State Senate!

The recent epidemic at North Adams, Mass., has been traced to the water supply. Engineer Locke has made a map of the town, indicating by red dots every house where there was a case of sickness, and by small circles every house which escaped, covering both the village proper and all the roads leading out of it. Afterward he drew the line of the water-pipe on his map, and everywhere the red dots stop with the pipe and follow its course. He cites numerous instances to prove that the water was the sole cause of the trouble, and shows that nearly everybody who was pointed out as not using the town water, although sick, had been in the district and drank. He locates the impurity in an old mill-dam through which the water passes, and says he found it full of decaying vegetable matter which gave forth an offensive odor perceived at some distance from the pond. That, he thinks, was sufficient to cause the outbreak, in connection with the peculiar weather which had prepared the people for the epidemic.

The Springfield Republican thinks that "Hancock needs now to justify his claim as a candidate for a civil office by a letter of acceptance which shall show that on civil matters he has opinions and can express them. If he has none, and a brief letter of acceptance will be generally taken to mean this, he lacks the qualifications for a civil office as much as Grant." Now, as in the very same paragraph the Republican declares that the edge of Hancock's record as a statesman, based on his orders South, "has been a good deal taken off by a wide-spread belief, strongest among the best informed, that Judge Black wrote those orders," we would really and truly like to know how the Republican expects to be convinced and to convince a doubting world that a voluminous letter of acceptance, such as it clamors for, will have been written by Hancock? Does it want to lock up General Hancock until his letter is finished?—Boston Herald.

POLITICAL.

Gen. Plaisted can be elected in Maine, but not by the aid of Denis Kearney.—Boston Post.

General Garfield's opponents are a great deal troubled about the defence he will make to their charges. They need not worry themselves. The only defence General Garfield needs is the one Daniel Webster made of Massachusetts: "There he stands, look at him!"

Senator Hoar, at the Boston Garfield ratification meeting: "I think I have heard that when the rebel pickets were in a close place and the fire grew hot, they used to think sometimes they could stop the firing by sticking up, alongside of a tree the uniform of a Union soldier. And that is their plan of this campaign."

General Hancock has himself never been a laboring man, so as to be practically identified with their interests, and feelings and desires. General Garfield began his life as a laboring man, who worked for wages, and he has all his life been in close sympathy with the working classes.—Detroit Post and Tribune (Rep.)

Ex-Secretary Boutwell, after describing in his speech at Lowell, Mass., Gen. Grant's relief by the action of the Chicago Convention and his gratitude to his friends added: "There is no doubt that he and his friends will give the nominations their hearty support."

The Cincinnati Enquirer says "it is the commanding beauty of the ticket that a distinguished Union soldier, by the largeness and votes, and at the instance of ex-rebels, was placed at its head.' The italics are ours. They serve to show the origin of the ticket, and by the aid of Ku-Klux and Rifle Clubs its strength, also.—Boston Journal.

It will be found, we venture to say, that Hancock's candidacy is like a bumble-bee—biggest when first hatched.—Council Bluffs Nonpareil.

General Hancock, in one of his letters, says "it's principles not men." It would be kind of the General to state what are the principles of the Democracy. Excepting "State rights," none are in sight to the natural eye.

Hon Frank Jones has hoisted over his brewery in Portsmouth, a Hancock and English flag on which is painted "Victory and Reform." The motto has no reference to reform clubs.—Manchester Mirror.

Starting with the assumption that it is the settled purpose in South Carolina that the intelligent and responsible citizens shall rule, whether they are nominally the majority or not, what course shall the people of the State take to make themselves safe, and avoid the horrible strain of such elections as the last with their uncertainties and manifold unpleasantness.—Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier.

Gen. Hancock has no record as a statesman, but as an office-seeker he can discount all the rest of the candidates. He was a candidate for the Democratic nomination in 1868, 1872, 1876 and 1880. He beats Tilden and Judge Davis even, in this respect.

On account of the infamous attempt to steal the State by the false count of the Governor and Council, Daniel F. Davis will be elected this year by ten thousand majority every district will elect a Republican Congressman and we shall have the legislature by our old fashioned majority.—Kennebec Journal.

The Hartford Courant says that a great many soldiers are indignant because Democratic managers are proposing to deck out their ward bummers with the badges of the old Second Corps, which Gen. Hancock commanded. Lots of us can remember when Democrats took delight in reviling that corps badge.

Col. Edwin H. Webster, of Hartford County, Md., who has been acting with the Democrats since the war, and the Hon. Frederick Stone of Charles County, also heretofore a Democrat, will support Garfield and Arthur.

Is Yazoo City and is Kemper County solid for Hancock? If they are solid, the few Republicans in either, who are still unshot in the back, should lose no time in moving out before the campaign gets warm.—[New York Tribune.

The New Orleans Democrat is rejoicing because, as it says, Louisiana may justly claim another trophy of political achievement and victory from her conspicuous agency in affecting the choice of Hancock as the candidate of the Democratic party for the Presidency.

In Indiana the New Albany Ledger Standard, one of the most influential party organs in the State, refuses thus far to support Landers for Governor, and the Indianapolis Sentinel is very cool toward Mr. English.

Mr. Tilden's first contribution to the Democratic campaign is a check payable to the order of W. H. Barnum for $100,000.

The Southern bulldozer is bringing about "reconciliation" with a club, as usual.

They don't fool the country cousin any, however, though he does his best to make the summer visit pleasant, smothering as far as possible the recollections of the winter's snubbing.—Springfield Union.

A yacht carrying a party of fourteen persons capsized on the Whitebear Lake, twelve miles from St. Paul, Minn., Monday afternoon. It was struck by a sudden squall, and having no competent sailor on board, went over. There were eight men on board, the remainder being women and children. Seven single men of the party swam ashore without making any effort to save the lives of the women and children. The latter were all drowned with one married man, who stayed and made an effort to save his family. Truly seven cowardly men.

There are in the United States 82,261 Sunday schools with 886,328 teachers and 6,623,124 scholars. MARRIED.

In Princeton, June 30th, by Rev. C. A. Main, N. B. Farrar of Baileyville to Laura A. Caldwell of Princeton.

DIED.

In Brunswick, July 1st, Mrs. Anna Louise, wife of Charles H. Clark, formerly of Bangor.

In Exeter, June 23d, Mrs. Nancy Champeon, wife of Asa Champeon, at the age of 60 years, 4 months and 9 days.

Mrs. Champeon, for the last ten months of her life, was a great sufferer, on account of breaking her arm and hip by a fall which she received last August. She was supplied with every thing for her comfort that money and the love and kindness of a large circle of friends could afford. When about forty-four years of age, she joined the Free Baptist Church at North Exeter. For every one she had a kind word; and large is the circle of friends that by her love and kindness she had gathered around her, and none that knew her stood outside that circle. The funeral was attended by Rev J J Banks, who spoke from the following words, truly fitted for the occasion: "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth. Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors, and their works do follow them (Rev 14 chap 13 v.) Mrs Champeon leaves her husband with whom for forty nine years she has faithfully trod the journey of life, seven children to whom she has been a kind and loving mother, and a large circle of relations and friends to whom she always proved herself a worthy friend, deeply to mourn their loss. Among the wonderful things which have been accomplished for lovers of good books by the "Literary Revolution," perhaps the most wonderful is the reproduction of this great Encyclopaedia at a merely nominal cost.

It is a verbatim reprint of the last English edition, in 15 beautiful volumes, clear nonpareil type, handsomely bound in cloth, for $7 50; the same printed on finer, heavier paper, wide margins, bound in half Russia, gilt top, price $15,00. The first ten volumes are ready for delivery. Vol. 11 will be ready July 15. The remaining volumes will be completed by October next.

$6.25. AN AMAZING OFFER. $6.25.

The more widely and rapidly these volumes are scattered the greater is their influence in securing other purchasers of this and our many standard publications. Accordingly we give special terms to early subscribers.

To all whose orders and money are received during the month of July, we will supply the 15 volumes, in cloth, for $6.25, and in half Russia, gilt top, for $12 50. To any one sending from any place where we have no special agent (usually the leading bookseller of the town) [illegible] orders, we will allow a commission of 10 per cent. The volumes [illegible] press, and the remaining volumes when completed.

A specimen volume in cloth will be sent, postpaid, for 50 cents, or in half Russia, gilt top, for $1 00, and may be returned at once, if not satisfactory.

The "CHAMBERS' ENCYCLOPÆDIA" comprises the first 15 volumes of our "Library of Universal Knowledge," and the remaining volumes, complete in themselves, will be sold separately when published.

THURSDAY, JULY 8, 1880.

BY TELEGRAPH.

MAINE NEWS.

Commencement at Bowdoin College.

BRUNSWICK, July 7. The morning trains brought in quite a large number of Alumni, and the town now presents quite an animated appearance. The exercises of the day are not of as much public interest as on the other days of the week, and most of the time is spent in renewing old acquaintance and in social gatherings. At 9 o'clock in the morning the Phi Beta Kappa Fraternity held its annual meeting and elected the following members of the class of '80: Dane, Hall, Giveen, Goulding, Maxey, Winter, Chapman, and Holmes. The officers for the ensuing year are: President, Hon. Josiah Crosby; Vice President, Judge Symonds; Secretary and Treasurer, Prof. F. C. Robinson; Literary Committee, Prof. J. B. Sewall, Hon. W. Z. Putnam, Rev. E. N. Packard, Hon. D. C. Linscott, and Rev. C. S. Perkins. Following the Phi Beta Kappa meeting came the annual meeting of the Alumni. No business of importance was done.

In the afternoon the First Parish church was well filled by an appreciative audience to listen to an address before the Phi Beta Kappa Society by Geo. T. Ladd of Bowdoin College.

Better Luck than in Bangor.

BIDDEFORD, July 7. The Democrats of this city and Saco joined this evening in opening the campaign, raising one flag in Saco and two in Biddeford. There was music, speaking by citizens of the two places, and fireworks. A large audience was in attendance.

GEN. HANCOCK INTERVIEWED.

He Does Not Deny the Statement of the Boston Journal Correspondent.

NEW YORK, July 7. The Brooklyn Eagle reports an interview between a delegation from Brooklyn, including Judge Pratt, Wm. C. Kingsby, Mayor Howell and others, and Gen. Hancock, in which the latter said: The reports we receive are very encouraging; nevertheless, although the outlook is bright, it behooves us to work to achieve success. There ought to be no trouble about Pennsylvania. I had a conversation this morning with an artist who has been in the county where I was born, making a sketch of the house of my mother. He says almost every one he met would vote for me, Republicans as well as Democrats. If this is true, it shows a desire on the part of the people for a change. I am of the opinion that the people of this country are desirous of a change of administration, but they want a man on the watch tower who will see to it that there shall be no interference with what has been accomplished in the past.

"With you, General," remarked one of the visitors, "the past is secure." "Yes," replied Hancock, "the past is secure; if it were not so of what avail, would our war have been?" The conversation drifted to the charge that Hancock had been engaged in the conspiracy to seat Tilden after the Presidential election of '76. "Whether or not I wrote a letter to General Sherman on the subject of the electoral contest I shall not say," said General Hancock; "but," he continued earnestly, "my position in regard to that matter was well understood at that time and has not changed since. I am of the opinion that General Grant's term as President ended at midnight March 3d; after that I should have paid no more attention to him officially than I would to a man in the moon. The houses of Congress alone had power to count the electoral vote and declare the result, and they were the constituted authority. My position on this question cannot be open to misconstruction. Anything I may have written to General Sherman or any one else concerning it, is at the disposal of the public. I am not ashamed of my views regarding the electoral contest, and still adhere to them."

Steamboats Being Overhauled.

NEW YORK, July 7. The United States District Attorney began suits to-day against nine river steamers for the violation of the United States statutes in not having an inspection made of boilers, machinery and hulls, and with not having the certificate publicly exposed on the boats. The certificate of one of the steamers expired sometime in 1879, and those of the others last month and have not been renewed.

Serious Charge.

Lawrence R. Jerome, Jr., son of the well known banker and sporting man, and Edward Patchell, manager of the banking house of Guy Bevan & Co., were arrested to-night on a grave charge. A boy in the employ of Brayton, Ives & Co., was sent out last Saturday to deliver stocks valued at $87,200. He returned saying he lost the package on Wall-st. After a long search the securities were traced to the possession of the prisoners. They intended to send them to Europe for negotiations. The manner of obtaining possession of the stocks is not yet divulged.

AMATEUR REGATTA.

PHILADELPHIA, July 7. The annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen was inaugurated this morning on the Schuylkill. The first trial heat of pair of oars was won by Gorman Brothers, Albany.

HARVARD VICTORIOUS.

Description of the Harvard-Columbia Contest.

BOSTON, Mass., July 7. Harvard won the boat race at New London by a boat's length. Harvard's time was 11.32; Columbia's 11.37.

NEW LONDON, Conn., July 7. The race was hotly contested throughout. Harvard won the toss, and chose the west side course. The crews started at 12.28. Harvard took water slightly in advance of Columbia, and both got away in fine style. At 38 strokes they swung along bow and bow, until the first half mile buoy was reached, when Columbia forged half a length ahead. This lead was overcome by the Harvards before the end of the first mile. At the first mile buoy Harvard got a slight lead, which gradually increased to a length and a quarter at the finish. The race created little excitement and not more than 1500 spectators were present.

POLITICAL.

Readjusters' Convention in Virginia.

RICHMOND, Va., July 7. The Readjusters' State Convention met to-day. All except one county and one city in the State were represented. It was called to order by General Mahone. Col. Riddleberger was elected temporary chairman and spoke at some length, contrasted this convention with the one held a little over a year ago. The people had taken their own affairs into their own hands, and intended to adjust matters in their own way, without regard to the wishes of political dead beats and without fusion or affiliation with other parties. Col. Abram Fulkerson was elected permanent chairman. He reviewed the origin and history of the party, and its rapid growth against the most powerful opposition, until now it was the dominant party of Virginia. A committee on platform, etc., was appointed and a recess taken till 5 P. M.

The convention reassembled at five P. M. and was addressed by State Senator John Paul and Capt. Frank S. Blair, in stirring speeches. The resolutions are confined mainly to local issues. They urge the promotion of the welfare and maintenance of legal rights of all the people of the State; re-assert the right of the people to control the revenue, and protest against subordination of the support of the government and maintenance of public institutions to any other claim whatever, and reaffirm the principles and policy laid down in Museat Hall Convention; approve and endorse "Bill to re-establish public credit", passed at the last session of the Legislature and vetoed by the Governor. The resolutions further provide for the nomination of electors and Congressmen, and instruct the electoral ticket to be nominated to support Hancock and English; and declare the duty of all to accept in good faith the results of the war.

Republican Congressional Conventions.

A split occurred in the Republican Convention, first district of Minnesota, yesterday, one section nominated Mark H. Dunnell, the sitting member, and the other section W. G. Ward, of Wasec.

The Republican Congressional Convention at Peora, yesterday, nominated John H. Lewis.

The Republicans in the Third Minnesota District have renominated W. D. Washburn for Congress.

FIRE IN LITTLETON. John R. Weed's stable and out-buildings in Littleton were burnt last Friday forenoon. The fire was first discovered in the stable, a few minutes after the Presque Isle stage left. Mr. Weed is postmaster, and while the mail was being examined, it is said that one of the passengers went into the stable with a lighted pipe or cigar. The stable contained twenty tons of hay, farming tools, harnesses, &c., all of which were lost. Nearly all of the furniture was saved. Loss about $3,800; insurance $800.—Pioneer.

H. J. Chapman, the census enumerator of Orrington, sends us the following statement: Inhabitants, 1558; deaths since June 1, 1879, 20; families, 375; oldest person, 96; average number of persons per family, 94; number of farms, 225; cows on farms of more than three acres, 693. There are ten milk carts running daily to Bangor, carrying for the year, 108,374 gallons. The cheese factory consumes 23,557 gallons. The 131,931 gallons at 16 cents (milk men's prices), nets the town the snug sum of $21,108.96. Largest family in town, Smith, numbers 176.

A BEAUTIFUL SIGHT. A night blooming cereus of a variety unknown to her, opened in the collection of Mrs. Marden, of Orono, Sunday evening last. The peculiarity of this variety is that the blossoms appear upon the sides of the flower stalk, rather than upon the end, as do many others. Another peculiarity that it produced two large blossoms at a time, each of which were several inches in diameter and emitted considerable fragrance. Many lovers of the rare and beautiful in plant growth visited it and were much pleased with its beauty.

Albert Emerson, Esq., has in his garden, on Summer street, a splendid show of white lilies. It is undoubtedly the largest collection to be found in any one garden in Maine. They are now in their prime. Mr. Emerson has always taken a deep interest in horticulture and has always had a beautiful flower garden, and being feeble and out of health he finds it a great source of pleasure and comfort. It is said that God has bestowed upon us two gifts, that in themselves have no guilty trait and show an essential divineness—music and flowers. "Flowers, which born of earth, we may well believe, if anything of earthly soil grows in the higher realm—if any of its methods are continued, they will live on the banks of the river of life." They refine and elevate our sensibilities. Mr. Emerson has a beautiful place and there is no one thing that so truthfully indicates a man's character as the place where he dwells—his home.

The Aroostook Pioneer says: The census will show an increase of population in this county, as did the census of 1870.—Although but few tabulations have yet appeared in print, there are sufficient to show a decrease in many sections, especially in the rural districts. Dr. Berry, enumerator for this town, finds a population of 3230, as against 2850 in 1870. The village contains 2194 persons. There are in town nine Indians, eighteen colored persons, three blind, one deaf mute, two idiots, three insane, and ten paupers at the alms house. The town contains 140 farms and 60 establishments of productive industry. The present population of Island Falls is 238; Crystal, 275; Eaton, 833; Bridgewater, 724; Blaine, 646; Mars Hill, 718; Westfield, 108. Easton is thus far the banner town, showing an increase of 311 on a population of 522 in 1870. During the past twelve months there were in that town twenty births and six deaths. The town has neither idiot, insane person, town pauper, nor debt, while there are but three or four persons above the age of ten years who "cannot read and write." What country town no larger than this can make a better showing?

W. H. Chesley, Esq., the census enumerator of Winn, gives us the following statistics: Whole number of inhabitants 912, which is 198 in excess of that of 1870, which was 714; males, 539; Females, 373; excess of males, 166; united ages, 20.230, average 22 nearly. Products for 1879: Wheat, 2,566 bushels; corn, 242 bushels; rye, 35 bushels; barley, 115 bushels; oats, 2,771 bushels; beans, 239 bushels; peas, 107 bushels; buckwheat, 342 bushels; potatoes, 11,172 bushels; apples, 273 bushels; hay, 990 tons; butter, 11,867 pounds; cheese, 500 pounds; eggs, 10,400 dozen. The oldest inhabitant is Mrs. Esther Hanson, mother of Eli Hanson, formerly of Bangor, who will be 99 years old in September, and is in good health and works daily.——The Templars of Lee have erected a building 40x26 and are to complete it for a hall for lodge meetings, religious meetings, etc., about two miles from East Winn on the road to Lee.——Lee celebrated patriotically on the 5th with a horse trot and tub race. L. D. Stratton, of Mattawamkeag, got first money in the sweepstakes. The others were Estes of Winn, driven by J. D. Stanwood, Cushman of Lee, and Dunham of Prentiss.——Several barns have been erected the present season in the vicinity of Winn.——The new rails are being laid on the E. & N. A. Railroad by a party having a tent about one-half mile below Winn Village.——Several hopeful showers have occurred in this vicinity lately.——The fire in Katahdin range was in upper Woodville and South Medway on land of H. Poor & Son and Hiram Hathorn, largely burnt over before.

A SICKLY RATIFICATION.

Deplorable Failure of the Democratic Demonstration.

THE ANNOUNCED SPEAKERS FAIL TO APPEAR.

Our feelings are more like pitying and commiserating with our Democratic friends than rejoicing over the utter failure of last night's "demonstration."—Smarting under the fizzle of Saturday night, when they attempted to form a campaign club, the Democrats of this city had made an effort to get out a big meeting at Norombega last night. For several days the Commercial had published a glaring advertisement, headed by an eagle, calling upon the Democrats of Bangor and vicinity to assemble at Norombega Hall, Wednesday evening, July 7, to ratify "the nomination of Hancock and English for President and Vice-President, and Gen. Harris M. Plaisted for Governor."

The advertisement continues: "The meeting will be addressed by the eloquent orators, HON. A. O. BREWSTER, of Boston, and GEN. SAMUEL J. ANDERSON, of Portland. Short addresses will also be made by local speakers."

Editorial after editorial followed, calling attention to the announcement, and last night's Commercial fairly bristled with italic streamers, pleading with the people to come out and attend the meeting. Scattered in various parts of the paper were these appeals, which we reproduce:

Let old Norombega's walls reverberate with the cheers of the united, an enthusiastic and a conquering Democracy to-night.

Let old Norombega be "Solid" to-night for the Democratic nominees, Hancock, English and Plaisted.

Let us open the campaign with a rousing meeting at Norombega to-night.

"Let us match the demonstrations with which the Democracy of other places have greeted the nominations of Hancock and English, by a grand celebration at Norombega to-night."

"Rally for Hancock and Victory at Norombega Hall to-night!"

A feeling of sadness and disappointment overspread the Democratic countenance when the clock struck eight, and the St. John's Band had played several of its most brilliant airs, and still the audience failed to come. On the platform were gathered the bright lights of Bangor's Democracy in the persons of J. P. Bass, Abram Sanborn, Joseph Tobin, Philo A. Strickland, Dr. Jordan, W. H. McCrillis, W. T. Pearson, P. G. White, G. L. Boynton, and the principal orator of the evening, Stephen Jennings, Esq., recently of the Maine State steal, a doorkeeper in the house of the conspirators, and a member of "Gov." Smith's staff.

But the audience! Perhaps in all five hundred persons were present. That is the highest estimate we have heard any Democrat give it. This included ladies and children in the galleries, the unterrified on the front seats; and the Republicans in the rear who had come in through curiosity to witness the "Rally for Hancock and Victory." Special rates had been offered on the European & North American Railway, but not a ticket was sold.

Dr. Jordan, came forward at a quarter past eight o'clock, and tried to infuse into the scattered, audience a little enthusiasm. He stamped and shouted, and flung his arms about, and uttered the name of Hancock several times, but all these efforts failed to invoke more than a faint and sickly applause. Despairing of accomplishing his object by a speech, he called, for six cheers for the candidates and victory. He was unfortunate in the number. Had he confined himself to one, the Band might have furnished that, but the cheers as given were like Dr. Tanner in his starvation feat, slimmer and slimmer on each trial. After another piece by the Band, W. H. McCrillis was introduced as the chairman of the meeting, who proceeded to say that we shall never enjoy peace and quietness until we rid ourselves of the Republican party.

The chairman then introduced, not A. O. Brewster, of Boston, or Gen. S. J. Anderson of Portland, but—guess who? Stephen Jennings of Bangor! He had prepared his toilet for the occasion—looked as sleek and nice as though he had just stepped forth from a band-box, and some kind friend had furnished him a written speech. Certainly the hour and the man had come! He commenced his speech without looking at his manuscript, depending upon a somewhat treacherous memory:

Fellow Democrats: I have returned from the Mecca of all our hopes—the Cincinnati convention. The action of that convention is writ in letters of gold upon the blazing sky. (Refers to manuscript.) Yes, my fellow Democrats, sky. Never before in the history of political warfare was there such an uprising! We shall not have to draft our men—millions of men will spring to arms. (Turns over the wrong page and loses the place, but recovers himself and proceeds.) From the north and from the south, from the east and from the west, from the forests of Maine to the mountains of the Pacific slope, we hear a voice, and it repeats the names of Hancock and English. (Faint applause.) The enemy is already taking alarm, and is deserting in large numbers, and before the campaign is half closed we shall see one-half the Republican party flocking to our standards. (Takes his eyes off the manuscript to notice the effect of the remark on the audience, but recovers himself.) O, my fellow Democrats, how our hearts should swell (in placing his band on the locality of his heart, the orator again disarranged his manuscript, but again recovered himself with slight interruption) with joy that we should see this glad day of deliverance, when ministers of the Gospel, instead of preaching politics in the pulpit, shall labor in the sweet ministrations of religion, our Sunday schools purged, and when Senators of the United States shall not go about the streets urging men to hate and despise their political opponents. No one has any conception of what it has been to be a Democrat in Bangor for the last fifteen years. Republican leaders have shown distinction in schools, our wives have felt it in society, and we have felt it in our business.

The speaker here put aside his manuscript and to arouse applause began to mention the names of leading Democrats who have shaped politics in this section—Sanborn, Marcellus Emery, McCrillis, Varney—but he stopped before he got to the name of Bass. The speaker continued somewhat further, but the noise of big boots on the floor, transporting Democrats to the open air, rendered it next to impossible for our reporter to catch the drift of the argument. It would have been less painful to the audience had Mr. Jennings committed the speech, or been more careful in copying it from the original manuscript of Mr. Daniel Sanborn.

The next speaker was Abram. Sanborn, Esq., who prided himself on being a Jacksonian Democrat and belonged to the party that had baptized the country at its birth, and would live as long as the country lived. He understood that the Republicans boasted that they would carry Indians. If they do so, it will be because they have imported ten thousand "niggers" into the State to vote down the white man with noble pedigree. The most of his speech was devoted to an enthusiastic eulogy of Gen. Hancock and his military achievements, especially describing the battle of Gettysburg, when the General was pouring hot shot into the ranks of his Democratic brethren at the South. He failed to enlighten his audience as to his own position or that of his party during that eventful peri d. It is certainly novel to have descriptions of battle scenes in a Democratic ratification meeting. Mr. Sanborn erred in the statement that the country had given to Gen. Hancock only the title of Brigadier General. For more than fifteen years he has been Major General.

Mr. Sanborn's speech closed the meeting. Messrs. Brewster and Anderson were both absent, and had probably never promised to be present. There was not a particle of enthusiasm exhibited during the evening, except over the performances of the Band, which played five times to fill up the time. Even the few who nerved themselves sufficiently to remain and endure Sanborn's infliction, separated a little after nine. We have not misrepresented the "demonstration" in the slightest degree. It was a dead, flat, stupid affair, and it were better for the Democrats had it never occurred.

West Waterville.

Our correspondent at West Waterville says: So far the season has been most advantageous for haying, and our farmers have improved it to the utmost. The several scythe and axe companies were never more busy than now.

Improvements upon our streets have been commenced, but will not be completed till after haying.

The political campaign has not opened here, but circumstances point to a warm canvass when it does begin, and in this town, for an increased Republican majority over last year's vote.

It may be because the writer is a Republican, but there seems to be a lack of enthusiasm over the nomination of Gen. Hancock among his Democratic friends. There is no evidence that his strength will increase, and most certainly if not, it will wane as the campaign increases. It is not Gen. Hancock as the commander of the old second corps who is to be the target in this campaign. For him none have a more genuine respect than those Republican soldiers who now array themselves beneath the pennant of the intrepid Garfield; but it is the Gen. Hancock who in 1880 becomes the standard bearer of that party who in their platform of principles (?) in 1864 declared the war a failure, that party who, all through the Rebellion, cried "peace, peace when there was no peace," and who now have the cheek to stand up and denounce every measure designed to decrease the immense debt for which they are indirectly responsible. Union soldiers who forget these things will doubtless vote for Gen. Hancock, but those whose memories are not treacherous, those who wish their ballots to follow their bullets, will vote for Garfield.

Mr. Daniel Staples, the enumerator for Dexter, informs us that the number of inhabitants in that town in 1870, was 2875; in 1880, 2563. The falling off is accounted for by the epidemic of diphtheria that carried off 100 of the inhabitants, and the stoppage of certain manufacturing corporations, which are now reviving. During the census year there have been 61 births and 30 deaths.

KIDNEY-WORT ALWAYS CURES.

EAST WAKEFIELD DEPOT, N. H., March 4, '80.

MESSRS. WELLS, RICHARDS, & CO.

Gentlemen—Permit me to say a word in favor of Kidney-Wort. My mother has been afflicted with Kidney Disease for a number of years. Last spring she was so bad as to necessitate her taking Spirits Nitre at least three times a day—had a most alarming pain in her side, also much numbness. After taking one box of Kidney-Wort the pain and numbness disappeared. Her appetite improved at once, and she has not taken a drop of Spirits Nitre since. I advise all who need such a medicine to give it a trial.

That win her to her lover's arms.

NABOLI. Dr. Lincoln says that a lady came to his office to have him fill three very sensitive teeth. They were so sensitive for months past that she did not dare to call upon him. He told her the value of Naboli. She had not heard of it before. She believed what he said. In about five minutes he commenced to prepare a cavity and then filled it with tinfoil. He did same in the second cavity and then the third. He told her at first that it be caused any pain to tell him of it. She was about half asleep before he had finished the filling; then she said: "I have not noticed the least pain in the whole work. I shall tell those who have sensitive teeth to come down and have a happy time, while you are at work for them." Not the least pain have others felt in any cavity, since he has used Naboli.
